MR. MCODY. Years have not weakened the interest in Mr. Moody or his meetings. In and around the Cyclorama, in Baltimore, where the meetings are now being held, people surge by the thousand, and at times the doors are closed to prevent an uncomfortable jam. Few pretend to account for the power which seems inherent in Mr. Moody to engage the attention of the people in the matter of vital religion. His discourses are models of simplicity and directness, and may be regarded as Mr. Moody's interpretation of the mind and spirit of the truth as he understands it. His eminent success as an evangelist would remind us that there lives in the minds of the people a latent desire to be better and do better: that after all, these Christian people so frequently misrepresented are the salt of the earth. Wars and commo tions go on, schemes of aggrandizement are ever rife, and in the scramble after place, emolument and wealth, there exists a certain quiet, unobtrusive force which is at last appealed to, to hold in check unholy aspirations, make straight the crooked paths, and clear away the misconceptions which have engendered through the folly and wickedness of men. This force is what Mr. Moody seeks to bring to the front, with Christ as the central figure. A man of unbounded faith in what he teaches, having | were taken in the matter. up, if not actually to convert the world,

The Honorable John Very Little Find lay, of Baltimore, who formerly repre sented, as a Democrat, the Maryland Fourth Congressional District in the House of Representatives, but who, because of his erratic conduct, was repudiated by his constituents and displaced by the brilliant Isidor Rayner, has had his aspirations for emolument and preferment under President Harrison's administration nipped in the bud.

The Honorable John Verv, &c., is a kinsman in some roundabout way of Mr. Harrison, and was appointed a member of the Board of Chilean Arbitrators. The Senate has declined to confirm the appointment, and the Republican and free-booter press is wroth. Upon Senator Gorman especially are the vials of their wrath being poured. The claim is made that the Maryland Senator has been prompted in his action in the matter by resentment of the personal slander and abuse which has been thrown at him by the Honorable John Very Little, &c.

Among other chaste things said by the Honorable John, &c., has been that "the only good Gorman is a dead Gorman, that "he is a charlatan, a trader and trickster," that "he has neither learning, acquirements or other endowments,' and more in the same line. Now the truth is that even Senator Gorman' enemies, who count for anything, give h'm credit for having plenty of brain and education, and when the Honorable John Very Little, &c., displays the asininity contained in the statements he has made. no sane man, knowing the premises, can think him capable of earning honestly the five or ten thousand dollars to be paid a Chilean or any other kind of an

The consensus of opining among Republicans as well as Democrats is that Cleveland's cabinet is the result of a very mature and carnest endeavor to serve the country. Mr. Cleveland recognizes the fact that he has a billion-dollar business on hand and does not expect to find much time for duck-shooting.

Early in the week the clans began to arrive in Washington, and at this time (Friday) battalions by the hundred, uniformed and ununiformed, are marching and counter-marching preparatory to the great pageant on the morrow Those who attend will be treated to a great sight and a great lot of uncemfortable squeezing and delay, particularly at the railroad stations. Pennsylvania avenue is lined with staging from one end to the other, at three dollars upwards per seat. It is estimated that fully forty housand men will be in line. The railroads leading into Washington will be taxed to their utmost. It is stated that paid from $1.18 to $1.30 per hundred the B. and O. will not run local trains, in the forenoon at least, but through trains will leave Camden Station every ten
